Joy of Teaching

Every Day & Every Way

The aim of this Course is to prepare a whole new breed of primary and secondary teachers powered by nature and will be known as GREEN TEACHER in the society.

This team of Nature's own Educators will bring the Power of Nature into every school through their Green pedagogies, that will create a new community of Climate Champions within the School.

Passion For Planet

Green teachers for Every School

The Climate Change phenomenon refers to seasonal changes over a long period with respect to the growing accumulation of greenhouse gases in the atmosphere. Tackling this phenomenon is utmost importance given the pivotal role that climate plays in the formation of natural ecosystems and the human economies and civilizations on which they are based.

Education is an essential element of the global response to climate change. It helps young people understand and address the impact of global warming, encourages changes in their attitudes and behavior and helps them adapt to climate change-related trends. United Nations also aims to make climate change education as visible part of the international response to climate change.

Since Climate around us is changing rapidly, and now more than ever we need to be ready to act and prepare the next generation to take care of our planet by using power of Nature.

Green Mentors is proudly presenting Green Teachers Training Program. This program is designed to the inspiring educators of India to bring the Power of Nature into education through sustainable teaching practices with Indigenous values.

This program explores the basic science of climate focused teaching and presents the tools to teach it in a natural, positive, engaging and participatory way.

The program also introduces nature inspired teaching pedagogies that makes teaching more and more interesting.

The Green Teachers Training Program brings together like-minded educators from across the India with interests in progressing education in our changing environmental, social, and economic global landscape.

The program provides opportunities to not only learn from what Green School has to offer, but creates a platform to explore, share and expand ideas with others. Learning is a collaborative process between Green Mentors and the participant.

Methodology
