Education for the Planet

Education has the power to x all challenges on the planet, including climate change, while responsible education can build a sustainable future for all.

Climate change and environmental degradation are global problems that require a bold, clear response from organizations, governments, and businesses.

Green Mentors is strengthening the capacities of the nations, communities, and enterprises towards confronting these challenges with the power of responsible education.

World Education Forum

World Education Forum is an international responsible education event designed to bring together the growing community of global academic fraternity, who intend to accept "accountability to the pupil and planet" in January 2033 in Davos, Switzerland.

Our vision is rooted in our shared responsibility to build and operate learning spaces that contribute to the well-being of every member of the teaching-learning community—and ultimately to the planet's health.

Theme

Responsible Education

When an education system accepts accountability to the future of its pupils by offering personalized curriculum, teaching pedagogy, and co-curricular activities to achieve the desired learning outcome with physical, social, and emotional well-being along with the responsibility to the planet by minimizing the impact on the local environment is known as Responsible Education.

A Responsible School or University maximizes the human potential of the learner by connecting learning outcomes with livelihood.

Responsible Mentor

A Responsible Mentor is a super-teacher accredited by the Green Mentors. He or she works with learners struggling to achieve learning outcomes to maximize their learning and connect with sustainable career opportunities.
